

Kantianism – the History of Graeco-Roman, Macedonian and Indian Magada
by Shomit Sirohi

I. Modes of Exchange

Modes of Exchange	Arranged in periods from 10,000 BC to 50 AD is Greece and after the 200 AD is Feudalism and then colonial conquest with then Caliphs in the tribute-plunder in the 15 th - 18 th century till the Modern and commercial capitalism	Christ, Paul and Mohammad, then Modern Vatican, Judaism and even Islam
Gift, commodity-exchange and plunder	Periodize	Modern Prophet or Modern Followers of Paulinian Life

II. In Kantianism

In Kant arrange the periods in line with a period in Greece or even Magada and compare a form which then is something formal – like a scripture, letter, inscription or philology – genealogy or archaeology – this then is compared like Greece today and Christ's life in Greece today which is then how the travel to Aegean is today a modern shipping trade which had Algeria in a photo by Sirohi – it means then that these two compare.

III. Forms

Forms of life, concentric circles then. And points of comparison – even finally form as scripture.
